Dear Rambhai & 2010 Milan Team:

Ketki & I would like to extend our congratulations to the Team for Job Exceptionally Well Done during the 2010 Milan Convention. You guys have set the bar so high that future teams will have to work really hard just to be in par with the quality of programs we just experienced. The memories truly will last for long period of time.

Your dedication, hard work, team effort and enthusiasm to keep KPSNA's goals and objectives alive paid off during the event where everyone enjoyed every minute of it and had great time for the entire event. The detailed planning and perfect execution was evident throughout the event and it will serve as an example for everyone to follow. We were fortunate to witness our next generation working with our (older) generation to undertake these responsibilities and accomplish it flawlessly.

Venue was great, Film Fare awards showed artistic talents and your hearts in this program, Yatra's experience was unreal and there is nothing close to compare with, food was delicious and hospitality showed by everyone was heartwarming.

At every step, either during the planning or during the event we can see and feel how proud everyone was to be a Kadwa Patel!

I have attached few of the pictures from my camera.

Again, A BIG THANK YOU!

Ketki & Manu Dadhania.

Rambhai & 2010 Milan Team:

Bindu & I would like to congratulate the Team for hosting a very successful 2010 Milan Convention. You have furthered our goals for KPSNA. Youth participation was unbelievable, I know they all are busy in their school or jobs and despite that they spent so much time in preparing for these events. Everybody I talked was very impressed how much interest the youth were taking and they were also thoroughly enjoying all the events. We feel very confident that our future generation will continue our tradition and values. Milan 2010 is the way convention should be which brings our community closer and get to know each other better in our busy life in United States. The memories truly will last for long period of time.

Your dedication, hard work, team work, and enthusiasm were very apparent throughout the convention. Entertainment was a blast, so many members participated, and there are no words to describe how well the events were organized. We should sign you up for future programs and not invite outside groups. The yatra was very impressive- obviously every one spend lots of thought on it and I am sure we all learned and refreshed different cultures, traditions and delicious food from different parts of our mother land. All the events including the picnic were well planned and food was great. All the committees including hospitality did great job.

We are proud of all of you, a special thanks to all the youth, please continue to get involved in our Samaj activities and we are sure you will further our traditions. Also all the ladies, thank you for your active participation, we know you have so many hats to wear in routine life and it was impressive how well everybody worked together.

Thank you;
Jaman and Bindu Kothadia

Hello KPSNA 2010 Milan Guests:

My late reply is in no way indicative of my feelings for the convention, which was extremely meaningful and memorable. Despite being amongst a thousand people, I felt I was among my family and close friends by meeting each person individually. The atmosphere was warm, relaxed, cheerful and festive. The performances were extraordinary, especially the yatra which was not only educational and enlightening, but a marvelous display of cultural tradition across three generations. This event surely fostered a sense of brotherhood within our caste and was exemplary in strengthening ties to our community. This convention continues to inspire me and I get goose bumps thinking of the harmony and sense of cohesion amongst friends and families. I appreciate the fantastic committee members and their families for all their efforts. I hope all of you have enjoyed the event as much as I have and those who were unable to attend truly missed an amazing experience. My family absolutely cannot wait for the next convention and look forward to seeing everyone.

Sincerely,

Ashit & Minaxi Vijapura

Dear Rambhai, Arvindbhai, Parag, Dineshbhai, Kajal, Harishbhai, Jayantbhai, Kiritbhai, Bipinbhai, Narenbhai, Jayantibhai, Maganbhai Vinaybhai and many many more Organizing Committee Members and specially very hard working ladies and a future youth(I am missing many names).

I am really sorry for delaying this response.

I was planning to write a comprehensive report for our website and also to send to India. Looks like it may take little bit more time. I have not got single weekend home for last seven weeks and still it does not give me an excuse to delay.

Through your hard work, sincerity, teamwork and passion for an excellence have produced an extraordinary convention. As other members have expressed that this is a unique accomplishment we will remember as I have told during convention. Mohanbhai Ratanpara who was past secretary from Umiya foundation was amazed to see the level of sophistication, discipline and modesty the committee members, volunteers as well as all the members of Maryland, DC and Virginia.

The entertainment program was better than any Broadway show we can see and enjoy spending 100 dollars per ticket or any bollywood night various entertainers brings from India. The movement of hands, expression of the artist and coordination was extremely professional. I think the most important aspect was the gusto, the charming facial expression and sense of accomplishment everybody were showing which is indescribable. I personally think this is the great lesson to learn from you all, how a team work and leadership turn an ordinary person and bring the extra ordinary results by extracting the best out of everybody. I am very confident that this experience and philosophy used in this convention will be a future reference bible for years to come.

Yatra is indescribable, as I was talking to Arvindbhai and people sitting on his table that we might have to find new world to describe this extra ordinary journey because which is unimaginable. This was a one of the greatest tribute to our beloved land which is so diversified and each area has unique culture and way of living. I remembered my experience at New Delhi on Bhartiya Pravasi Divas about 5 years ago and I thought when somebody talk about this event Ii always thought of Yatra like experience they had created, however the level of detail, bringing something like this from people who is not from that particular area, over all picture and "mahaul" will be the most memorable event for our community. Your team will be at the front end to inspire our future generation in this kind of unique experience.

I was able to attend young professional forum, medical forum and business forum, they did not let me in women's forum because this was been and exclusive events for women. During this forum we have many eye opener, unique and sensational ideas, suggestions and challenges. I was talking to some of members who like to take challenge to have retreat and dissect all these and see where we can take these monumental assets of our community.

During our executive meeting we had also nice opportunity to discuss various issues specially with our counter parts from UK and organizing committee members as well board of trustees and executive committee members what we can visualize next 5 or 10 years from here. This will be discussed as we go. Hope to have a lunch or dinner with our dedicated and since hard working committee members in near future.

Sorry again for my delaying my response.
